PwC became a partner of educational symposium in Baku.

13 May 2017, Baku. PwC Azerbaijan became a partner of educational symposium held in Baku on 12-16 June for sustainable development of education in the country. The main goal of symposium is exchange of ideas on innovation and modern training methods and use of advanced practice of local and USA experts. Analysis of various stages of education management, new approach to STEAM educational system, assessment of research work, statistics and reporting were the main discussion topics during the event.

PwC Managing Partner in Azerbaijan Movlan Pashayev made a speech on the role of public-private partnerships in shaping education policy in Azerbaijan and noted the importance of cooperation. He also noted that the results of the CEO survey, conducted by PwC Azerbaijan confirmed that one of the main business threats on the local market is availability of key skills.

Corporate responsibility and sustainable business development are of great importance for PwC for building strong relationship with the clients, our employees and society in which we operate. Approach to corporate responsibility both on global and regional level is a key component of our business strategy. We put our efforts to provide high quality services, comply with ethical business rules, help develop talented and qualified professionals, participate in the life of local communities in the areas where we conduct our activities and continue to be a catalyst for change.
