Hong Kong – General Insurance

Definition	Accounting	Taxation
Definition of property and casualty insurance company	A company authorised under the Insurance Companies Ordinance to carry on insurance business other than long-term (Life) insurance business.	For tax purposes, insurance business is categorised either as life or non-life business. Life business is defined as: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Life and annuity.</li> <li>• Marriage and birth.</li> <li>• Linked long-term.</li> <li>• Tontines.</li> </ul> Insurance business other than life business is treated as non-life business for tax purposes.
Commercial Accounts/Tax and Regulatory Returns	Accounting	Taxation
Basis for the company's commercial accounts	Companies incorporated in Hong Kong: Accounts created under the Companies Ordinance, which comply with accounting standards prescribed by the Hong Kong Society of Accountants.  Branches of overseas companies: No statutory requirement for commercial accounts.	Generally follows accounting treatment with adjustments for non-taxable investment income (see 5) and offshore underwriting income (derived from insurance policies where contracts are made and proposals are received overseas).
Regulatory return	Companies incorporated in Hong Kong A separate return in accordance with the Insurance Companies Ordinance. Branches of overseas companies:  (Usually) Accounts created in accordance with accounting standards prescribed by the Hong Kong Society of Accountants as instructed by the Hong Kong Insurance Authority and a separate return in accordance with the Insurance Companies Ordinance.	N/A.
Tax return	N/A.	An annual return as required by the Inland Revenue Department.
Technical Reserves/ Equalisation Reserves	Accounting	Taxation
Unearned premiums reserve (UPR)	Required to be calculated by a method no less accurate than the monthly pro rata method.	Allowed as per accounts.
Unpaid claims reported	Calculated on a case-by-case basis. For returns in accordance with the Insurance Companies Ordinance, an actuarial review of the Motor and Employees Compensation claims reserves is required if those reserves exceed specified thresholds on the level of reserves.	Accounts provision allowed in full.

Claims incurred but not reported (IBNR)	Generally calculated using statistical bases. For returns in accordance with the Insurance Companies Ordinance, an actuarial review of the Motor and Employees Compensation claims reserves is required if those reserves exceed specified thresholds on the level of reserves.	Accounts provision allowed in full.
Unexpired risks	For accounts created under the Companies Ordinance, the need for premium deficiency provisions can be considered in aggregate across all classes of business.  For returns in accordance with the Insurance Companies Ordinance, the need for premium deficiency must be considered on a class-by class basis. An actuarial review of the Motor and Employees Compensation claims reserves is required if those reserves exceed specified thresholds on the level of reserves.	Allowed as per accounts.
General contingency/solvency reserves	General contingency/solvency reserves are not permitted/recognised. For returns in accordance with the Insurance Companies Ordinance, solvency is monitored on a required excess of total eligible assets over total insurance liabilities. Assets are required to be valued in accordance with statutory regulations, which can give rise to negative valuation reserves.	Not allowed.
Equalisation reserves	For accounts made up under the Companies Ordinance, equalisation/catastrophe reserves are permitted, but rarely occur.  For returns in accordance with the Insurance Companies Ordinance, equalisation reserves are permitted.	Allowed as per accounts.
Expenses/Refunds	Accounting	Taxation
Acquisition expenses	For accounts created under the Companies Ordinance, deferral of acquisition costs is permitted; however, usually companies only defer commission expenses.  For returns in accordance with the Insurance Companies Ordinance, deferral of acquisition costs is not allowed.	Generally, acquisition costs are deductible when charged to the profit and loss (P&L) account.
Loss adjustment expenses on unsettled claims (claims handling expenses)	Both direct and indirect claims settlement costs should be accounted for.	Allowed as per accounts.
Experience-rated refunds	Accounting depends on nature of refund (e.g. swing-rated/burning cost premium refunds affect the premium line, sliding scale commission adjustments affect the commission line).	Taxed when taken to profit and loss account.
