Senior Manager – Real Estate (Business Recovery Services)
London, Leeds and Manchester

As part of our specialist Real Estate team within the UK's largest Business Recovery practice, you'll have the chance to put your property expertise to work, helping struggling businesses make the most of their property portfolio to get them back on track.

At the confluence of real estate and business solutions, the scale and complexity of projects can be huge. Not only will you be working with a wide range of national and international clients, you'll be doing so alongside a variety of niche specialists, providing you with an excellent opportunity to broaden your knowledge and progression within the firm. Whatever your background, you'll need an MRICS qualification and three years' PQE as a minimum and practical experience in everything from property development, planning and construction through to valuation and marketing, coupled with an ability to think and advise strategically. Ideally, you'll have some experience of working with lenders and financial institutions.

Equally important, however, will be your intelligent yet creative approach to problem-solving, your ability to think on your feet and a willingness and track record of proactively developing profitable relationships across the business. Above all, you'll need to be up for a challenge.
