“The main reasons for coming to Malaysia were to challenge myself by working in a new country and also to apply my technical skills to the Malaysian framework. Without a doubt, the experience has enhanced my abilities in working with and managing people of diverse backgrounds. I’m now more ‘global’ in my thinking too. I believe I would not have gained some of the technical insights by remaining in Australia.”

Corporate Responsibility

Making a difference

Marketplace

We play an integral part in Corporate Responsibility (CR) advocacy with our Strategy, Sustainability & Transformation team helping companies structure and implement their CR framework.

People

We appreciate our people. If you've demonstrated extraordinary contributions at work, you may be recognised and rewarded via our BRAVO, WoW or Excellence Awards. Staff who have contributed significantly to the community while maintaining their commitment to the firm are recognised through our Citizen Award.

We also have a Work-life Plus Programme. Our people can opt for Flexible Working Arrangements or take time-out for career breaks to pursue activities or personal goals and aspirations.

Each year, we ask our people to share with us what they feel about their career and perception of the work environment through a people engagement survey. We take our people's feedback seriously and make an effort to respond accordingly.

Community

Volunteer to participate in the May-November programme which involves our people volunteering at children's homes to tutor the children and assist in administrative tasks. Each year we receive an overwhelming response from our volunteers.

Many are repeat volunteers who even spend their personal time on weekends helping out at the homes. Supporting this, our people also contribute their time towards improving literacy and reading skills amongst the children at the homes under our PageTurner initiative. During the 2010 financial year alone, our people chalked up a total of 12,569 volunteer hours by taking part in our various CR programmes.

Environment

Taking action on climate change is important to us. You can participate in our "Go-green" campaigns throughout the year and see how our initiatives coupled with your actions have an impact through our monthly Green index.
