About PwC Namibia

In Namibia, PwC employs 230 staff of which 14 are partners / directors, and 4 Associate Directors located in two offices, Windhoek and Walvis Bay.

We have a diverse client base covering the full spectrum of economic activities, and we provide a range of services to match.

We strive to be a transformed firm that represents the demographics of Namibia, and also to create an environment that will enable growth and economic empowerment for all our people, in particular those that were previously disadvantaged. As one of the largest professional services firms in the world and in Namibia, we believe that we have a responsibility to play a role in empowering all the people of our country, starting with our staff.

We know that the value we create to our clients creates the relationship they are looking for. That being said, the partnership at this firm adds value on empowerment, development, growth, and socio economic change in Namibia.

The relationship we look for is a long term relationship where association has long term value for all. We believe mining companies make a large economic contribution to Namibia. Besides tax to the government, mining companies seem to be engaged in a lot of corporate responsibilities and are also the agents for collecting a number of other taxes on behalf of the Government.

What differentiates PwC in Namibia?

With over 200 professional staff operating from two offices, PwC is the leading professional services provider in Namibia. We provide a comprehensive range of professional services to clients throughout the country. We are clearly distinct from our competitors in approach as well as corporate identity with a few excerpts being:

- PwC produced the first black female CA who then became first black and first female president of the Institute of Chartered Accountants of Namibia (ICAN). We currently also have the distinction of producing the second female and incumbent president of ICAN.
- Our clients include private sector businesses – both multinational and national; many government institutions – at national and local levels and financial institutions.
- Our advisory practice encompasses national priorities. We have recently hosted a Prototype Week for Namibia, which aims at soliciting private and public sector input in harnessing innovation and entrepreneurship as intellectual capital towards the attainment of a digital economy for Namibia. The workshop has yielded a number of Prototyping projects aimed at accelerating growth and innovation in the areas of ICT, energy and finance.
- We publish the Business and Investment Guide for Namibia.
- Our corporate partnerships are far-reaching. We have recently partnered with the Ministry of Trade & Industry on the CNN Eye on Namibia campaign, which aims to promote Namibia through features and news reports; covering various topics on business prospects, people, culture and the economy.
- For the past 9 years, we have been hosting the annual Namibian Budget Speech event on the day that the national budget is read out by the Minister of Finance. The event is followed by a lively panel discussion with the Minister of Finance, other Cabinet Ministers and representatives of the Namibian Business Community.
- The PwC Namibia Tax team produces a monthly newsletter (www.pwc.com/na) to keep our clients up to date on developments in tax and related legislation. This is in addition to alerts on significant new legislation announcements.
- Our tax team is the only one in Namibia with specialist partners for direct (income), indirect (VAT and Customs) and employee taxes.
