

Industrial Products (IP) assurance practice

What we do

The Industrial Products practice consists of a variety of subsectors including Aerospace and Defense, Chemicals, Transportation and Logistics, Forest Paper and Packaging, and Metals, Industrial Manufacturing, Engineering and Construction, as well as Business and Professional Services.

We perform core financial statement and internal control audits providing independent reporting to our clients. We help our clients deliver quality financial statements to regulators and consumers.

Why our clients come to us

Our commitment is to the highest audit quality. We see ourselves as innovators and continue to challenge ourselves to bring a higher level of quality and value to the audit each year. Our commitment to quality is demonstrated by the deep industry experience and functional expertise integrated within our teams; the comprehensive level of our audit effort; and proactive communications with our clients.

Our practice operates within a framework set by PwC's core values: Excellence, Teamwork and Leadership.

Our typical work day

Each day is different for individuals in our group. We work in teams on all of our engagements, so we can coach, learn from and support each other.

The Industrial Products industry is constantly changing. Advancements in technology have a direct effect on the mode and speed in which information is transmitted. Our clients must adapt to these fluctuations, creating areas of opportunity for our teams to add value.

Our typical clients

Our clients include Fortune 500 companies – household names that you would recognize – from all parts of the Industrial Products industry.

We have the knowledge and experience to work with institutions and our clients come in all shapes and sizes, including both public and privately held firms.

Our typical work locations and length of engagements

Many of our clients are located in large metro areas, as well as throughout the country and internationally. The length of our engagements vary based on the client and the type of engagement being executed. Most projects within our group last approximately two months.

What people get from working with us

Our professionals leverage our network of technical and industry experts through a spirit of teamwork, trust, and innovation. Our team prides itself on consistently building relationships with each other and our clients based on honesty and integrity.

Ultimately, working in Industrial Products helps to further your development as a PwC Professional, equipping you with global acumen and personal skills that will help you succeed in your career.
