PwC Bermuda makes 10-year commitment to Family Centre

January 21, 2016 – Today, PwC Bermuda announces a ten-year partnership with Family Centre.

The professional services firm will offer its support in a number of ways including an annual financial contribution, volunteer time offering the skills and experience of its more than 200 people and support in fundraising initiatives and strategies.

Funding provided will help support children suffering from problems such as abuse, neglect, and other emotional challenges. Family Centre's counselling and support services provide some of Bermuda's highest risk families with the help they need to change their lives and create a positive future.

Martha Dismont, Executive Director of Family Centre, says, "We are pleased that PwC Bermuda has made this long-term investment in services for vulnerable children and families. The long-term nature of this commitment is significant for Family Centre. This level of commitment in Family Centre will support sustainable services over time for families. We thank PwC Bermuda for their generosity and willingness to provide funding in advance of services. This is the best case scenario for us, and we have always hoped to have the kind of outcomes which would make us worthy of this support."

Arthur Wightman, PwC Bermuda leader, said: "We are delighted to support Family Centre long-term in achieving their objectives of building strong families and community support systems in Bermuda. Corporate responsibility is at the heart of what we do as a firm and as a partner of the Family Centre, PwC is humbled to offer our support to this important organization over the next decade.

"Our community owes a debt of gratitude to Martha Dismont and her colleagues for their 25 years of dedicated service and success in supporting and improving the well-being of vulnerable children in Bermuda - at home, at school and in the community."
