PwC employees donate $21,000 to 28 charities in Bermuda

Hamilton, Bermuda – PwC Bermuda has donated over $21,000 to 28 local charitable organisations as part of employee-led holiday giving initiatives.

Employees volunteered at feeding programmes and other charitable organisations earlier this month, and donated gift vouchers from the firm, given in lieu of the annual holiday party, to local charities of their choice. In addition, the firm's partners chose to match these donations, and make a further donation to three charities doing incredible work assisting our community by helping those most at risk and in need.

“We are proud of our people and grateful to them for supporting so many great causes this holiday season. It has been an extremely challenging year and we at PwC extend our sincere gratitude to the community organisations in Bermuda working so tirelessly through it all to help those in need,” said Scott Watson-Brown, PwC Bermuda partner.
