Value of working with PwC

Without PwC

With PwC

Unstructured processes

Being responsible for the internal setup and execution of procedures, indicators, monitoring structures and periodic updates.

With PwC Outsourcing you get the benefits of working with a scheme of processes that has been in constant evolution over the last 27 years, leveraged on business agility, as well as certified quality standards.

Operational attrition

Bearing deviations of key resources to solve non-core business problems, in addition to the increase of costs due to the turnover of work teams.

PwC Outsourcing manages your administrative processes so that you do not have to invest key resources and deal with accounting and payroll tasks.

Lack of technical accounting and payroll know-how

Incurring training costs to help personnel acquire the necessary knowledge of the accounting and payroll regulations, and bearing the time-related cost these processes take.

Designing and implementing processes that guarantee knowledge transfer and update.

PwC Outsourcing provides you with fully-trained teams with knowledge of accounting and payroll processes, guaranteeing the efficient execution of these processes, in line with the current regulations. In addition, our service helps you mitigate risks derived from the lack of technical knowledge.

Technology and digital enablers

Incurring expenses for the acquisition updating and maintenance of technological tools to manage accounting and payroll information, infrastructure costs to support support technology and guarantee user access to it. Dedicate teams for software implementation processes.

With PwC Outsourcing you get access to different collaborative apps integrated into the outsourcing service, promoting automation and information analysis based on your own data. This includes their infrastructure, implementation and update.
