What is this training about?

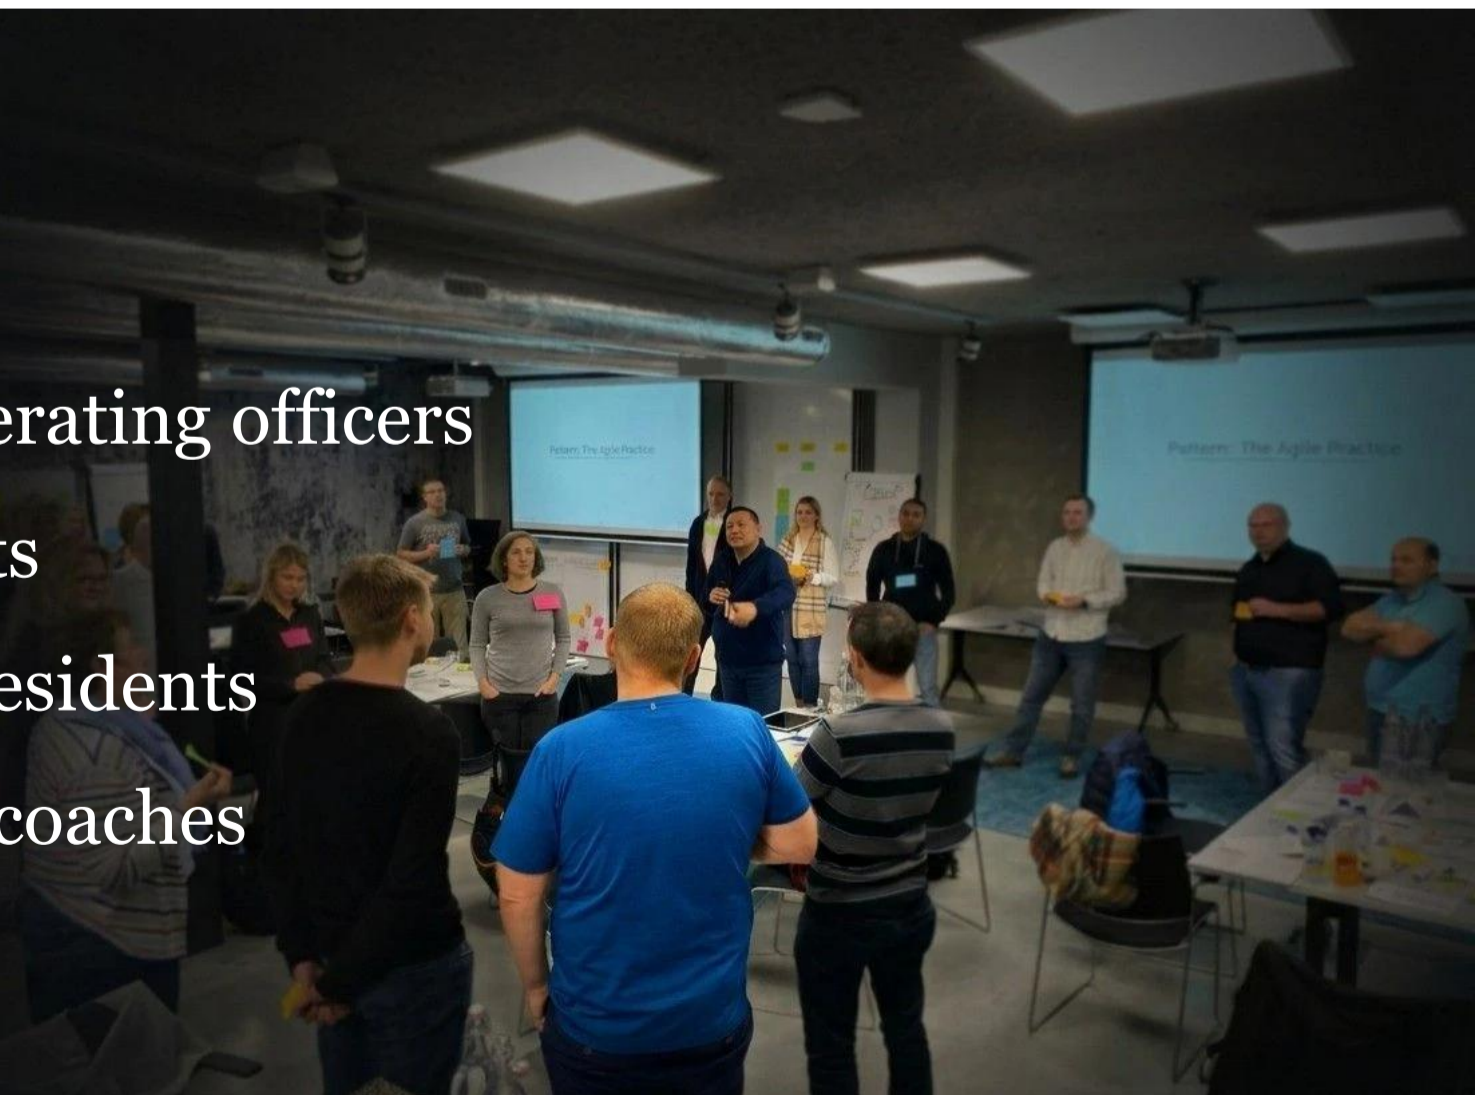

This two-day workshop aligns leaders on the mindset and behaviors needed to drive high-performance Agile execution. Participants will learn what truly enables team performance, how to make effective trade-offs, and how to guide teams toward delivering meaningful outcomes across the organisation.

Why Agile and Scrum were created and how leadership impacts team performance.

- What hyper-productivity looks like and how to create the right environment for it.
- Leaders will learn how to align roles, responsibilities, and structures for smooth execution; prioritise value and timing without political conflict; turn strategy into clear, actionable, and prioritised work; set realistic expectations for sustainable performance; and align teams around shared outcomes.

Who is it for?

- Business owners
- Chief executive officers, chief operating officers
- Chief financial officers, presidents
- Vice presidents, assistant vice presidents
- Senior Scrum masters and Agile coaches
- Strategic planning officers
