Overview

Starting from November 11, 2024, Kazakhstan will transition to ISO 20022 – an international standard for electronic messaging between financial organizations.

This innovation is also accompanied by the introduction of a consolidated payment order in Kazakhstan, which allows for the payment of several types of taxes and other mandatory contributions with a single payment order.

Therefore, we recommend contacting your bank to obtain the new format for payment documents to avoid issues with making tax payments starting from November 11, 2024.
