Shymkentmay

The history of the company dates back to 1942, when Chimkent fat-and-oil plant was opened and launched. In 1993, Shymkentmay Joint-Stock Company was established as a part of Chimkent fat-and-oil plant. For the short 20 years of operation, the plant has restored its capacity in full, and, moreover, exceeded previous performance. As of today, Shymkentmay JSC is the largest representative of the fat-and-oil industry in the Republic of Kazakhstan. The plant applies waste-free technology. The core business of the Shymkentmay JSC is: vegetable oil and oilseed meal production, as well as laundry soap production. Hundreds of thousands of the Kazakhstan citizens appreciate and invariably purchase the products of Shymkentmay JSC.

Features and benefits

The advantages of cottonseed oil are widely known in cookery. The products quickly dropped into the heated cottonseed oil have crisp roasted outer crust. The hot oil immediately "set" their surface without penetrating, for this reason the dishes are so delicate and delicious. This oil is ideally suited for frying, stewing and deep fat. Heavy percentage (more than 40%) of unsaturated fatty acids in the oil of cotton seeds is a ground of its extrinsic value for dermatology. The unsaturated fatty acids play a significant part in metabolic process of skin cells, improve its structure, promote barrier functions.

Product 3 - Soybean oil

- Indicative pricing: $800/ton
- Packaging size: not packaged
- Shelf-life: 4 months

Features and benefits

Soybean oil is a concentrated source of energy (calories), highly digestible, containing essential fatty acids, vitamin E and a large amount of polyunsaturated fatty acids.

Essential fatty acids - linoleic acid and alpha-linolenic acid - cannot be synthesized in the human body and must be supplied with food.

A tablespoon of soybean oil (14 g) provides a healthy child or adult's daily requirement for essential fatty acids. Soybean oil is also a source of omega-3 and omega-6 fatty acids. These fatty acids play an important role in the construction of cell membranes (necessary for the impeccable exchange of nutrients and oxygen and the elimination of toxins), especially for the health of the cardiovascular system, they are the preliminary steps of important tissue hormones (eicosanoids), which control important processes in tissues and cells.
