

Sustainability and ESG (non-financial) reporting

PwC Academy courses that will help you get a comprehensive overview of sustainable development and non-financial reporting

ESRS standards

In July 2023, the final version of the first set of ESRS European reporting standards was approved.

You can find their summary here:

Contact

Radka Nedvěďová
ESG & non-financial reporting
radka.nedvedova@pwc.com

Our expertise and professional knowledge have enabled us to prepare a comprehensive offer of educational courses that will help you gain an overview of ESG standards and familiarise you with the mandatory requirements.

ESG & non-financial reporting

The ESG & non-financial reporting programme includes four interrelated modules that will provide you with a comprehensive overview of sustainable development, non-financial reporting and news and trends in the field of ESG. Practically oriented modules will help you become familiar with ESG regulations and provide you with clear instructions for compiling a report on sustainable development.

Mandatory ESG reporting – EU CSRD a ESRS standards

In the course, you will learn the basic rules of reporting, including quality assurance requirements for future mandatory verification (audit). You will familiarise yourself with the structure, topics and reporting information requirements for the main pillars (E, S, G) and learn to differentiate the requirements according to the level of commitment.

Mandatory ESG reporting – EU Taxonomy

The taxonomy is a relatively new EU regulation aimed at directing private finance towards sustainable activities. In the course, we will familiarise you with the regulation and the related European legislation that governs the implementation of taxonomic reporting.

Carbon footprint measurement and disclosure

Disclosure of the carbon footprint of an organisation or a product is beginning to be required by European legislation, financing banks and important customers. We will teach you what the carbon footprint consists of, how it is calculated, and what paths lead to its reduction.

ESG reporting for experienced professionals – upgrading from GRI to ESRS

You will appreciate this training if you already report on sustainability on a voluntary or mandatory basis, based on Global Reporting Initiative (GRI Standards) or another methodology. We will take you through the major differences between voluntary (e.g. GRI-based) and mandatory CSRD reporting and explain their practical implications for the report content, process and sustainability governance.

More information and registration:

Sustainability and ESG (non-financial) reporting

PwC Academy courses that will help you get a comprehensive overview of sustainable development and non-financial reporting

Participant profile

I am starting with ESG, I need to familiarise myself with this topic

I already have experience with ESG and reporting; I need to familiarise myself with the latest updates and EU regulations

I want to gain a clear understanding of the carbon footprint

Recommended courses

ESG & Non-financial reporting

(4 half days)

ESG reporting for experienced professionals

– upgrading from GRI to ESRS (half day)

Carbon footprint measurement and disclosure

(1 day)

I am/will be responsible for preparing ESG reportingb, and I need to familiarise myself with EU requirements and standards or

In my role as an auditor, I need to get ready for the future assurance of sustainability reports in the EU

Mandatory ESG reporting – EU CSRD & ESRS Standards (2 days)

Mandatory ESG reporting – EU Taxonomy (1 day)

Course Date	Time	Course	Fee
29-30 January 2024	09:00 – 17:00 CET	Mandatory ESG reporting – EU CSRD & ESRS Standards	821 EUR + VAT
8, 15, 22 & 29 February 2024	13:30 – 16:30 CET	ESG & Non-financial reporting	742 EUR + VAT
28 February 2024	09:00 – 17:00 CET	Mandatory ESG reporting – EU Taxonomy	494 EUR + VAT
18 April 2024	09:00 – 17:00 CET	Carbon footprint measurement and disclosure	494 EUR + VAT
28 May 2024	13:00 – 16:30 CET	ESG reporting for experienced professionals – upgrading from GRI to ESRS	187 EUR + VAT

More information and registration:

