

Futures Thinking for Business Professionals: Navigating AI & Uncertainty with Foresight Tools

A public workshop by PwC's Academy

In a world characterised by rapid and disruptive technological advancements, fostering a future-ready approach has become both essential and challenging. Business leaders are now tasked to craft strategies that are not only reactive, but proactive in addressing ongoing transformations. The ability to anticipate shifts in technological trends and their impact is critical for building resilience.

This immersive 1-day workshop equips you with specific frameworks, mindsets and tools of futurists to harness strategic foresight effectively. You will engage in active discussions to explore and expand your perspectives on how emerging technologies are reshaping industries, and to navigate uncertainties with confidence.
