

Goods and Services Tax (GST) Workshop Series

Date: 26 & 27 October 2015

2-day workshop

9.00 am to 5.30 pm

Venue: Sime Darby Convention Centre

Getting compliance right

The introduction of a new, broad and complex tax regime – the Goods and Services Tax (GST), and the complexities involved in interpreting and applying the relevant laws have increased the risks of non-compliance for businesses.

The risks of incorrectly charging output tax on sales and/or incorrectly claiming input tax on purchases in everyday business transactions is ever present.

It is vital that you are familiar with the GST rules relating to your business and industry as well as to keep staff up to date with the latest developments to avoid potential errors in GST reporting.

Have you been correctly zero rating your international services and exported goods?

Are you applying the correct input tax recovery rules when making input tax claims?

Have you applied the correct GST treatment on your recovery of expenses?

What does our course offer?

- Provide participants with an understanding of GST rules applicable to a number of complex transactions and to evaluate the impact of GST
- Enable you to identify and deal with major GST issues
- Gain an understanding of when transactions qualify for zero rating or exemption or relief
- Be equipped with knowledge on input tax recovery rules
- Learn about the common GST errors and issues
- Enable you to identify the changes required for business operations to comply with the GST law
- Enable business to utilise special schemes and rules where applicable
