Forensic Accountancy Bursary Opportunities

PwC Namibia award bursaries to students interested in studying Honours Forensic Accounting at North-West University.

Requirements:

- Must be a Namibian Citizen;
- Mathematics, Accounting and English as subjects in Grade 11 and 12, obtaining a minimum of 65% average in all subjects;
- Students are encouraged to apply with their Grade 11 final examination results;
- Provisional acceptance at North-West University will be required during the application process;
- Current university students studying towards an Honours in Forensic Accounting or a Chartered Accountant qualification are also invited to apply;
- Demonstrating versatility at school will be an added advantage that we would consider as part of our awarding of bursaries. Activities may include participation in a sport, occupying a leadership position, participating in a cultural extra mural activity, participating in a science fair, participating in a community activity etc.;
- Other requirements include proficiency in English, strong communication skills, logical thinking to solve problems, working knowledge of technology, good social skills, and be able to work well in a team;
- Students who obtained a bursary from another financial institution that requires the student to complete work after studies, will not qualify for a PwC bursary;
- Shortlisted candidates will be subject to a personality and aptitude test.

Please note you have to register your profile and apply online.
No hardcopy applications will be accepted.
