

Common application issues in preparing financial statements

Half-day workshop

Enhancing professional judgment to avoid pitfalls and overcome reporting risks

Objective

This course will provide insights for participants to manage reporting risks by understanding the common pitfalls based on regulators' review themes and comments.

Who should attend?

CFOs, Finance, Managers, Controllers, Supervisors, Accountants, Analysts, Investor Relations, Financial Planning, Procurement, Treasury, Investors, Internal auditors at all levels

Overview and benefits of attending

Ensuring high quality financial reporting is a collective responsibility. For companies to maintain their reputation for trust and provide fair and reliable financial information, it is imperative for all stakeholders in the financial reporting value chain – directors, management, finance teams, auditors, investors, and regulators – to work together to raise the bar on financial reporting. As such, it is essential for all preparers of financial statements to have an excellent understanding of Singapore FRS. This will empower various stakeholders to exercise sound professional judgement in making financial reporting decisions and effectively overcome any pitfalls and reporting risks.

This half-day workshop is designed to cover not only the key judgment areas that are common sources of application issues but also the real life errors made by companies that affect the fair representation of financial statements.

The workshop leaders are from the Accounting and Financial Reporting Advisory Services of PwC Singapore who are IFRS specialists with extensive experience in providing accounting advice to clients facing judgement areas in accounting standards on a day-to-day basis.

Workshop agenda

Workshop will be at 9:00am to 12:30pm.
Registration will start at 8:30am.

This half-day workshop is designed to answer the following questions:

- What are the key judgement areas that are common sources of application issues in practice based on regulators' observations?
- How to adapt the right behaviour in preparation and review of financial statements to avoid common pitfalls?

Areas covered includes the following and more:

- Impairment testing under FRS 36
- Consolidation - Common control and joint arrangements
- Operating segments identification
- Intangible assets
- Business combinations cash flow statements
- Disclosure of significant management's judgments and estimates
- Fair value measurement

The answers to the above questions will be discussed through an interactive workshop with exercises and case studies on how to exercise sound professional judgement in financial reporting.

Note: The course contents are mainly intended to provides insights into the requirements of the FRS and its application via illustrative examples. We are available to discuss respective participant's specific implementation issues separately.
