

The East Africa Salary Survey by PwC is here!

Compensation in a period of uncertainty

As PwC, we have been conducting sector-based salary surveys year on year. This year (2021), we are carrying an East African salary survey cutting across various sectors. The resultant report will be rich in job title and job grade salary benchmarking data.

Why participate?

In today's dynamic economy, employers are constantly looking for a competitive edge in attracting and retaining top talent while at the same time, containing overall staff costs.

This can be difficult when reward and remuneration packages are not available in the public domain. Some of the questions that companies commonly seek answers to are:

- How much is this job/grade paid in the market?
- How are employers configuring the best compensation & benefits mix?
- What are the benefits of tweaking your remuneration structure to add, vary or remove elements or to introduce an element of flexibility?

The answers to these questions are pegged on understanding the landscape of the reward environment in the East African market.

By participating in this survey, you will be able to access data related to your industry/ sector as well as data at a country level which will then inform your decision making and strategy around talent.
