

Tax & Legal Update - Vietnam

Changes & Opportunities

Tuesday, 9 December 2014 | 8.30 am – 11.00 am | PwC Building | Singapore

Dear Readers,

We have two of our long serving Vietnam partners visiting Singapore, who will present on the Changes & Opportunities arising from recent developments in Vietnam's legal and tax environment.

We would like to cordially invite you to this breakfast seminar. This event will include coverage of:

- An update on the many recent changes - many very positive - to the Vietnam tax system
- Look at how the government may seek to balance its books after these giveaways
- New moves to tax foreign suppliers of goods to Vietnam
- An overview of tactics used in tax audits & transfer pricing challenges
- Vietnam's first anti-avoidance rules - anti treaty shopping regulations
- Changes to Vietnam's all important Laws on Investment and Enterprise
- Further sectors open to foreign investment under Vietnam's WTO Commitments
- An update on Customs developments and status of TPP

After the seminar, David & Richard would be pleased to have one-on-one meetings with any attendees who are interested in specific legal or tax matters in Vietnam.

About the speakers

Richard Irwin

Richard Irwin is a partner in the Tax and Legal Services division of PricewaterhouseCoopers' Vietnam practice.

He has more than 22 years of professional experience, including 6 years in the UK, where he worked in the financial services practice of a Big 4 firm. He has worked in Vietnam since 1995, and has advised many of the major foreign investors in Vietnam on structuring their operations here, and complying with the regulatory & tax framework. He specialises in M&A and has advised on numerous transactions both in Vietnam and the region, leading legal and tax due diligence reviews.

Richard was admitted as a PwC partner in 1999. He holds a Bachelor in Economics, and is a Fellow of the Institute of Chartered Accountants in England and Wales. He is also a Certified Public Accountant in Vietnam.

David Fitzgerald

David is the head of our Vietnam tax and legal services practices. He has more than ten years' experience working with PwC Vietnam.

David's client base covers all industry sectors including oil and gas, real estate, manufacturing, services, energy and infrastructure. David advises clients on tax and regulatory issues affecting inward investment, ongoing operations, mergers and acquisitions and structuring. He regularly works with the Government in relation to tax policy reform and legislative changes.

He regularly acts as lead tax advisor for transaction engagements. This has included due diligence reviews and deal structuring for clients operating in sectors such as consumer goods, financial services, telecommunications, real estate, oil and gas, services and the pharmaceutical industry.
